Art Unit: 1771

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. More particularly, in claim 1, line 7, the "and/" should be deleted in view of the fact that the claim clearly states that only one of the two adhesive coated surfaces is covered by a PET release sheet. As to claim 8 the Examiner first questions the correctness of the claim preamble, i.e. "tape for backing a polishing tape", and also notes that while line 3 also states that just one surface is coated with acrylic adhesive, the phrase in lines 6-7, "adhered onto one of the acrylic polymer coated front surface and/or back surface of said lining sheet" clearly appears to state that more than one surface of the lining sheet can be coated with adhesive. Note also that in the last line of the claim "is" should be --being--.

3. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murata et al, taken individually, or in view of Sakumoto et al, cited as evidence of the state of the art, for reasons set forth in Paragraph No. 3 of Paper No. 032106, together with the following additional observations. As to applicants' implications that there is something unusual about the PET release sheet paper's surface roughness for those release sheets used in the claimed invention the Examiner must respectfully disagree, and furthermore notes that both references (which either state or clearly imply the use of PET release sheets) are directed to producing release sheet or film coated adhesive layers which exhibit the desired smoothness values in the coated adhesive layer outer surfaces. Finally, the ability to form low center line average roughness values is also believed to be a very relevant consideration in one of ordinary skill's determining what areas of the adhesive coated sheet or tape art are most relevant in determining his search for relevant prior art, applicants' comments to the contrary notwithstanding.

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
